City of Mexico, Sept. 17. Further details of the killing of Anulfo Arroyo, show that the crowd entered the building where the prisoner was confined by the main entrance, easily overpowered the guards who were unarmed, except with swords, and hacked the prisoner to death with knives.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

Prosecution Will Rest Its Case To-day With Some Strong Evidence.

Chicago, Sept. 17. The prosecution will rest its case in the Luetgert trial tomorrow after three weeks given to presentation of evidence against the prisoner and four weeks spent in the trial. The prosecution will close its case with some strong evidence tending to prove the motive for the alleged crime. The State will endeavor to show that infatuation for Mary Stomering, the servant girl in the Luetgert household, was the cause of the murder. It will be claimed that the sausage maker desired to make the girl his wife and that he put Mrs. Luetgert out of the way in order to permit his marriage with the girl.

Today was given up to technical evidence.

The closing hour of the afternoon session was devoted to the identification by Prof. De la Fontaine, Prof. Haines, Sergeant Spangler and other witnesses of the prosecution of exhibits used in the trial, all of which will go into the jury room when the case is submitted for the jury's consideration.

IS NOT FAVORED.

Disapproval of Silver Scheme of the Bank of England.

London, Sept. 17. The letter of the governor of the Bank of England gives the impression to the bankers who have hitherto not entertained it, that the government intends to accede to bimetallic proposals later, and it is also interpreted as a reply to a request from the government to the bank, asking the latter to co-operate with the former. But it is thought that the fall in the price of silver since the letter was written may change the programme.

There is considerable dissatisfaction on the subject among the stockholders of the Bank of England. Mr. Robertson, a prominent banker, who holds £10,000 of stock as trustee, has notified the bank that he will sell it the silver policy is inaugurated and the odds that other trustees will do the same.

A FALL FIELD DAY.

A Fatal Stabbing.

A Strike at Portland.

Portland, Me., Sept. 17. Some sixty freight handlers in the employ of the Maine Steamship Co. struck today against a reduction of wages from thirty cents per hour to twenty-five cents. The workmen consider the action unjust at a time when the company is doing the largest business in its history.

While no official statement has been made to that effect, it is intimated that the freight handlers of other lines may make common cause with the strikers. If this should be done the situation will be much complicated.

On the part of the company, it is said that the reduction from 30 to 25 cents an hour was made necessary by reason of low freights. The cut was made in accordance with orders from the New York office, and what the outcome will be depends on action at that end of the line.

Later--A compromise has been effected. General Manager Coyle will see that the men get the old rate pending the laying of the matter before the directors at New York.

It Rained at Rigby.

Portland, Me., Sept. 17. Rain necessitated the postponement of the Rigby races today. This week's meeting will be concluded tomorrow, when it is expected that not only the unfinished races of Thursday, but the card that was originally down for Friday, will be cleaned up.

Next week promises to be the greatest racing week ever seen in this part of the country as scores of the kingpin trotters and pacers are here and eager for the word. There are fifteen first class events slated with a stake of $1500, for each event, making $22,500 in all.

Rain Prevented Recog.

Biddeford, Me., Sept. 17. The races and the general programme of the York county fair, arranged for today, were postponed until tomorrow on account of the weather. Troop F, of the third cavalry, U. Sporadic Outbreaks In Colliery Districts Reported.

No Thought of Withdrawing Troops from the Scene of Conflict.

Rather Wisdom of Sending More Cavalry Is Being Discussed.

Uneasy Feeling at Headquarters Over the Present Situation.

The Bands of Turbulent Women Present a Hard Problem.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 17. The strike situation tonight may be summarized thus: Over 10,000 men are still out with no apparent prospect of settlement; sporadic outbreaks of violence are occurring near the out lying collieries and the withdrawal of troops is not only without consideration but the guard lines of several of the camps are being constantly strengthened and the wisdom of bringing more cavalry is being discussed.

It was said today that if the soldiers are kept here much longer the Sheridan troop of Tyrone, attached to the second brigade, will be ordered out.

A captain of Gen. Gobin's staff is authority for the statement that no uneasy feeling prevails at headquarters in consequence of the little outbreak of the past few days and the indication they hold of the underlying disturbance.

The brigade commander himself admitted today that the action of the rabbling women was giving him much perplexity. He does not care to use force against them and has instructed the soldiers in case of necessity to use only the flats of their sabres upon the women.

This morning's violent scene at Audenried was almost an exact repetition of yesterday's at the same place. It arose from another attempt to start the Monarch and Star washeries of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company. About 100 men reported for work at the former when the wild band of women swooped down upon them with an armament of sticks and stones. The men promptly quit work before any injury could be inflicted.

At the Star washery, where 100 or 125 men wanted to work, a like assault stopped them.

The call for troops which came from Cranberry at 2 o'clock this morning was the sort of a scared night watchman who mistook soldiers for strikers.

Late last night another territory was turbulent. A body of strikers at Lattimer No. 2 quarrelled among themselves and bloodshed was threatened when Co. E of the Thirteenth regiment was encamped at Lattimer restored and quiet.

The only change in the strike situation, proper today was the return to work of the 500 men employed at Coxe's Beaver Meadow colliery. The miners say this is only temporary and that if the other Coxe men at Drifton and elsewhere decide at their meeting next Monday to go out the Beaver Meadow men will join them.

SEVERE FIGHTING.

British Lost 140 Killed and Wounded in an Engagement.

Camp Amuyat, via Peshawar, Sept. 17--6 p. m. Severe fighting has taken place between the second brigade of Gen. Sir Bindon Blood's division and the Mohmands.

The British loss was 140 killed and wounded.

The brigade had moved out to attack the Mohmands in the valley north of the camp, to punish them for the assault Tuesday night upon the force of Gen. Jefferys at the foot of Pawat pass. The Bengal lancers found the enemy entrenched on the hills about 8 miles distant.

The Sikhs drove the enemy into the hills, but eventually fell back upon the bluffs before superior numbers.

The enemy then advanced against the left and drove back the cavalry and surrounded a number of Sikhs. The cavalry charged brilliantly and relieved the Sikhs, and the guides coming up swept the enemy back. The force halted for dome time, destroying the enemy's towers and then retired.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Matter of Pension Payments.

Washington, Sept. 17. Commissioner Evans of the pension bureau said today that he thought it would be necessary this year to ask Congress for a deficiency appropriation on account of pensions. He said:

"I estimate that the total payments for the year will not exceed $147,500,000 and the appropriation for the year is $141,263,880. If there should be an unexpected falling off in the revenues, the pension payments might be curtailed toward the end of the year, although I do not think that it is at all likely."

The increased pension payments he said, would be due chiefly to the fact that there are about 200,000 "old" claims pending which it is the intention of the bureau to adjudicate as rapidly as possible.

The claims allowed probably would call for something like $8,000,000. There also had been a remarkable increase in the number of new pension applications and these would increase expenditures largely. In answer to a suggestion that there might be a deficit in the treasury at the end of the fiscal year, the commissioner said that he had examined into the matter somewhat and was of the opinion that there would be a sufficient increase of the revenues before the year was over to prevent a deficit.

The Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 17.--Today's stock market was strong and the average level of prices was considerably raised in the result of the day's trading. It was a successful test, however, that the greatest activity was confined to specialties. The gains were spasmodic in character and it could not be said that there was any simultaneous advance through the whole list. During the periods while individual stock or group of stocks was being advanced the general list showed a disposition to fall into neglect. It must be said, however, that the spasms of activity today went the round of pretty much the whole market. The grangers, the trunk lines, the Vanderbilts and the southwesterns, all of which have recently been checked or realizing sales invited by previous sharp gains, showed recoveries today.

The most conspicuous feature of the market, however, was the lively demand for the coalers. N. J. Central was carried up an extreme 8¾ to 101¾, or a gain per for the first time since February 83, of this year. The decline which preceded the reduction of the dividend dated from that time and culminated on May 24th, when the stock touched 83¾. It was one of the last to feel the impulse of the recovery of prices. The Reading stocks all advanced a point or over during the day, but fell back sharply just at the close. Lackawanna rose 2¼ and Delaware & Hudson, 1¾. There was some stirring up of the dead outs and dogs on the list also, and some sharp advances were recorded in low-priced stocks.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Many Factors Tend to Large Increase of Business Steadily.

New York, Sept. 17. R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, tomorrow will say:

The end of the bituminous coal strike and the return of many thousand men to work at advanced wages adds to the purchasing power of the people and the anthracite strike effects not a fifth as many workers.

The starting of many mines and works, the enormous exports of wheat and corn, the favorable news as to those crops and cotton, the fall in sterling exchange and the report showing that gold imports began in August, exceeding exports by $2,360,887, while merchandise exports exceeded imports by $40,833,763, have all contributed to forward the improvement in business.

The replenishment of stocks cannot be half finished, though some who could see no sign of improvement a few weeks are now finding it so vast and rapid that they fear reaction. But consumers as well as dealers have also to supply themselves after years of enforced economy, and while their power to purchase is increasing every day, and their actual buying at retail, reasons for apprehension are not urgent. When the tide rises after four years of depression it does not fall again after four weeks.

The wheat market has declined over 5c on account of the crop reports which promise larger prosperity and corn and cotton are both a little lower for like reasons.

Yet estimates of the highest financial authorities regarding requirements from this country are not smaller, but larger than before, while better prospects in Argentina, Australia, and India hold out no promise of large European supplies or of any until winter is about over. Atlantic exports of wheat, flour included, are double last year's each week, and in two weeks 8,820,313 bushels against 4,107,721 last year and of corn 7,695,363 bushels against 3,959,825 last year.

The iron industry again shows increasing demand and an average of prices nearly 1 per cent. higher like to purchasing by consumers. Buying of 100,000 tons Bessemer pig at Pittsburg has advanced the price to $10, grey forge is hard to find there at $9.15, and billets sell at $15.50.

With output increased to 122,431 tons weekly, Connellsville Coke advances to $1.40 for furnace.

The shipments of boots and shoes from Boston are 23 per cent larger than for the same weeks in September last year, which in turn exceeded those of any previous year. While leather is held firmly in spite of decreasing business, hides at Chicago have taken a turn downward, declining an average of 3.8 per cent. for the week. Textile mills are more fully employed than at any other time for years, though new buying has diminished in amount and though while the number of orders received is still large, the amount is smaller.

The demand is still very good for the season and prices are firm throughout, with some further advances. Actual business in buying of wool by mills is increasing at all markets with the belief that foreign supplies are short.

Failures for the week have been 201 in the United States, against 317 last year, and 40 in Canada, against 33 last year.

Bradstreet's Review.

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Notwithstanding the unseasonable warm weather and the appearance of yellow fever in several gulf States, checking the local distribution of merchandise, business throughout the country has increased more than anticipated.

The practical settlement of the bituminous coal strike, a further rising tide of demand for iron and steel products, the withdrawal from the market of some manufacturers of woolen and untexordinarily large bank clearings and reports that mercantile collections have improved constitute the features of the week.

Bank clearings for six business days ending with Sept. 16 (some estimated) aggregate $1,386,000,000 and form the largest week's total since January, 1893, at the top of the boom which preceded the panic of four years ago, one of the largest like totals ever reported. The increase over last week is 25 per cent. and fully 53 per cent. over total in the second week in September, 1896. There is an increase of more than 27 per cent. compared with the like total of 1895, nearly 53 per cent. contrasted with the corresponding figures in 1894 and 74 per cent. compared with the like total in the panic year 1893.

There are 169 business failures reported throughout the United States this week, compared with 175 last week and 315 in the week a year ago.

The prices for thirty of the more important staples continue to show pronounced strength, or seven being lower than last week—wheat, wheat flour, Indian corn, lard and pork, the result of a natural reaction from preceding advances, lead and cotton, which has begun to move more freely. Unchanged prices are reported for copper, coal, print cloths, leather, hides, and for wool and oats which remain very strong with an upward tendency.

Higher prices are given for sugar, rice, coffee, butter, eggs, potatoes and canned goods among food products for woolen goods, for spring delivery, for some grades of men's shoes, whiskey, white and yellow pine lumber, iron and steel bars, southern and bessemer pig iron and for steel billets.

Net railroad earnings for July make a good showing. Gross receipts of 80 systems for that month aggregated $56,641,830, a gain over July a year ago of 7.6 per cent. Net earnings for the month amount to $7,760,554, an increase over a year ago of nearly 15 per cent. or almost double the gain shown in gross receipts.

Wheat exports are very large, and with one exception (that of the second week of September, 1891), are the heaviest on record. The total shipments this week, (four included as wheat) aggregate 6,377,048 bushels, against 5,561,665 bushels last week, 3,500,826 bushels last years.

Corn exports are 1,000,000 smaller than last week, aggregating 3,091,000 bushels, compared with 2,392,000 bushels last year.

The people feel more cheerful.

The Cameron Case.

Nlta Yeuma, Miss., Sept. 17. Dr. Harris, of Vicksburg, arrived this morning and took charge of the Cameron case. If he has yellow fever it is remarkably light.

Suspected Yellow Fever Case at Mayfield, Ky.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 17. A Mayfield, Ky., special to the Times-Star says: Lizzie Bowens, a white woman, died in the depot here this morning. She was taken from the train last night and her death is said to be the result of yellow fever.

This evening the board of health announced the appearance of eight new cases and of three one death.

Yesterday was one of the hottest days of the month and there seems to have been a rapid development of germs. The physicians still feel, however, that there is much that is satisfactory in the situation.

APPEAL FOR TROOPS

To Preserve Peace and Order in Alaska the Coming Year.

Washington, Sept. 17. At today's cabinet meeting, which lasted over two hours, the situation in Alaska was discussed. Secretary of War Alger had a report from Capt. Ray, who has just arrived from St. Michaels, which furnished the basis for the discussion and the course which was decided upon.

Capt. Ray's report was in the nature of an urgent appeal for troops, to preserve peace and order during the coming winter. It was decided to send a company of infantry to St. Michaels as soon as possible.

Secretary Alger hopes to have the company sail within a week probably from Seattle. This action is in effect the establishment of a military post at the mouth of the Yukon.

Secretary Alger has not yet selected the officer who will be placed in command, nor does he yet know from what post the company will be taken.

There is a vast amount of stores and supplies at St. Michaels and there is not a United States soldier in the whole territory of Alaska.

Capt. Ray's Advices.

Washington, Sept. 17. The report from Capt. Ray, the army officer who was sent to Alaska to investigate the condition of affairs there, formed the basis of the cabinet decision today to send a small force of soldiers to St. Michaels at the earliest moment.

Capt. Ray's advices were of date Aug. 27. He was then at St. Michaels, about to take the steamer up the Yukon for Circle City. His report showed that without doubt great suffering must be expected in the Klondike region this winter, owing to the lack of food supplies. Further details on that point were promised at a later date. He regarded it essential that some kind of force acting under lawful authority be placed at St. Michaels to restrain the lawless element.

The soldiers who are to go North will be under the lead of Lieut. Col. Randall of the Eighth infantry now at Cheyenne, and there will be a surgeon and three members of the army hospital corps, because of the report of prevailing sickness in Alaska.

The Alaska Transportation & Trading Company will start another boat from Seattle for St. Michaels within the next seven days. This boat will take up mainly food and clothing supplies, but the troops will be taken also if the War Department desires it.

President to Visit Massachusetts.

Washington, Sept. 17. The President has arranged to leave Washington early next week for a short visit to Massachusetts. He will be accompanied by Mrs. McKinley and Mr. Courtelyou, his stenographer. His destination is Adams, where he will be the guest of W. B. Plunkett, an old friend, who came to Somerset last week to prevail upon the President to make this visit.

It is the expectation of the President to return to Washington some time in the last week of this month.

Will Not Sell Stock.

New York, Sept. 17. President Samuel Spencer of the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co. said today that the stockholders of the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville R. R. Co. said today that the stockholders have authorized the sale of $1,315,000 of the stock of the company is incorrect.

The stock referred to, it is said, was provided for in the reorganization and was to have been distributed among the holders of the six per cent. bonds, had they sealed their bonds. Failing to accept this proposition, the stock remains in the company's treasury.

Will Accept the Dupont.

Washington, Sept. 17. The Navy Department has received the official report of Chief Engineer Rucker, the expert member of the naval trial board, upon the recent trial of the torpedo boat Dupont.

On the report the department has decided to accept the boat from the contractors, the Herreshoffs, of Bristol.

TRAINS IN COLLISION.

A Wreck at Andover, Mass., Friday Night--No One Injured.

Andover, Mass., Sept. 17. The freight from Boston for Portland ran into and telescoped the caboose of the Salem coal train just outside the station here shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. The coal train of 16 cars was being shifted on sidings and the main track was not clear for the Portland freight which goes through here soon after 10 o'clock.

The engineer of the freight did not see the red light of the caboose until almost upon it, when he reversed and with the fireman jumped to the ground.

The caboose was wrecked and set afire while the headlight, pilot and smokestack of the freight engine were broken.

An alarm of fire was given from the station and in response the fire engine came down the hill and narrowly escaped colliding with the coal cars on the track across the street. A line of hose was laid and the fire in the caboose extinguished. The property loss was not great and no one was injured, but traffic was held up for some time.

BENEFIT OF NEW TARIFF.

New York, Sept. 17. W. H. Lever, president of Lever Bros., limited, the soap manufacturers of Liverpool, England, will sail from that city for New York on October 13th, to arrange for the erection of a factory in this country. PEASANTS ARE RUINED.

Terrible Effects of Bad Harvest in Russian Provinces.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 17. The bad harvest affects 17 Russian provinces, and it is feared it will be felt in 1898 as the drought has prevented sowing of winter wheat in a large area.

The immense reserve stocks will prevent a famine, but the peasants are ruined for several years.

BASE BALL.

Boston Crawled Up a Bit on Baltimore on Friday.

Boston, Sept. 17. Boston defeated New York today in the most one-sided game of ball seen here this season. Sullivan could not control the ball a little in the first inning and Zearfoss was way off in his throwing. Three hits, three bases on balls, a wild pitch and wild throw by Sullivan and Zearfoss, gave the Bostons six runs in the first inning and settled the result then and there. In the eighth Boston had another batting carnival. Davis hurt his hand in the first inning and Gleason succeeded him at short. Nichols' work was superb and his support was perfect. Gleason and Van Haltren did excellent work for their side and it was not their fault that Boston won. Scores: Boston, 17; New York, 0. Hits, 20 to 3. Errors, 0 to 0. Batteries, Nichols and Bergen and Ganzel; Sullivan and Zearfoss.

Bergen started in to catch for Boston, but the club secured such a lead in the first inning that Manager Selee substituted Ganzel for the rest of the game in order to give Bergen a chance to rest.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Liver and Kidney Troubles and Palpitation of the Heart--Appetite Poor and Could Not Sleep.

"For nearly 10 years I have been troubled with my liver and kidneys and palpitation of the heart, and was under the doctor's care most of the time. I could not lie on my left side. My appetite was poor and I could not sleep. In January the grip confined me to the house. I was very low and was attended by the very best physicians I could get. It seemed as though nothing would help me. In March I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In less than a week I could get a good night's sleep. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and I am now able to lie on my left side, which I had not been able to do for years. My appetite is good and I have gained in flesh and strength." Whig and Courier

BY BOUTELLE BROTHERS.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle Brothers, and communications intended for publication should be addressed "Editor of Whig and Courier."

SATURDAY, SEPT. 18, 1897.

The friends of free silver insist that it is the "shortage abroad" that causes the advance of wheat, and that only. But how about the advance in cotton, corn, oats, meats, tobacco, and practically every form of agricultural production? They have all been advancing, while silver has gone down.

An increase of 34 per cent. in the number of employed persons in one year is very encouraging. The official reports of the trades unions of New York show that this is the year's increase in that city, and there is reason to believe that the country generally will make an equally good showing.

The sockless Simpson told the farmers of his district that if Mr. McKinley were elected money would increase in value and farm products would decrease; that a condition resembling slavery would result among the people of Kansas, with wheat at 25 and corn at 10 cents per bushel. And now the Kansas farmers are doing some scornful laughing.

George Fred Williams seems to be running Massachusetts Democracy, but Democrats in that State are not sufficiently numerous to make the job a difficult one. If he can keep himself before the people Williams is willing to be kicked and the people of the Bay State rather enjoy the operation. Last year he only picked 154,000 votes of an election.

Reports from the Ohio campaign show that the Republicans are warming up to the work with promptness and vigor. Senator Foraker, who has been in the East, reports that the Republican party will stand solidly in line and poll an enormous vote, while the Democrats are so divided among themselves as to make it impossible for them to muster even a respectable minority.

Ex-candidate Bryan's six-column argument about wheat and silver and prices seems to have fallen flat. It is generally commented on by the press of the country as a flat failure as an "explanation" and so full of inaccuracies and also statements as to lower Mr. Bryan in the estimation of those who were inclined to believe him at least honest in his expressions and arguments of last year.

The Indiana lynching calls for vigorous action on the part of the authorities. Five men were taken from the jail and shot and hung by a mob. These men belonged to a gang of burglars who had committed various thefts throughout the section, but had been arrested and held for trial. The Governor has ordered the sheriff to make the most determined effort to capture the offenders, every one of whom ought to face the charge of murder. It is time to call a halt upon the individuals who take the law into their own hands.

William Henry Wallace, whose death announced, was in continuous service the postmaster of Hammondsville, Ohio, for sixty-seven years. In speaking of his career recently he said: "I have served under thirty-two Postmasters-General, including the present official, Mr. Gary, and if I am spared until next month I shall have been sixty-seven years in the service. I have been an observer in my busy life, and all the vast changes in State and Nation have passed under my eyes. The postal service has been improved marvellously. They used to charge postage according to the distance the letter went. I have taken for a letter that came 400 miles two bushels of oats, and at other times two bushels of potatoes, four pounds of butter, or five dozen of eggs. To rob the mails in the early days meant death. When I was a little boy—it is seventy-nine years ago now—I saw the notorious Hale and his accomplice hanged in Baltimore for robbing the mail, and a little later I saw the execution of Hutton and Bell for robbing the mail and killing the driver, named Heaps."

The growth of manufacturing interests in the South in the past few years is shown by the fact that there are now in the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas, and Virginia 434 cotton mills, with 3,461,631 spindles and 90,193 looms, besides 72 knitting mills. In 1879 the total number of spindles in the States named was 1,533,259, so that the increase since that year has been about 120 per cent. Of the cotton mills, 249, representing about two-thirds of all the spindles and looms, are on the line of the Southern Railway. There are now 52 per cent. more spindles on the line of this road than there were in the whole South in 1880, and the greater proportion of the increase has occurred in the last three years. The woolen mills of these seven Southern States number eighty-eight and are situated as follows: Alabama, 2; Georgia, 5; Kentucky, 18; Mississippi, 1; North Carolina, 13; Tennessee, 25; Virginia, 24. About fifteen of these mills are also cotton or knitting mills. Of the total nearly one-half are located on the line of the Southern Railway, and these include most of the largest ones.

Tribute to a Veteran.

One of the pleasing incidents of the recent meeting of the State Board of Trade at Ellsworth, was the spontaneous tribute paid to one of its oldest and most distinguished citizens, Hon. John D. Hopkins, who has for more than a generation been one of the most notable characters of Eastern Maine. In his opening address at the banquet, the President of the State Board, Hon. Henry Lord, of this city, referred in eloquent and complimentary terms to the venerable citizen whose absence from the festivities he regretted, and paid a tribute to his sturdy patriotism, tireless energy and enthusiastic championship of every good cause, that elicited rounds of heartiest applause from the representative men assembled from all parts of the State. On Thursday at the entertainment of the Board and other guests at the home of Senator Hale the presence of Mr. Hopkins was signalized by heartiest demonstrations of good will, and among the groups on the lawn, his erect and towering form, surmounted by the familiar white felt hat, was constantly surrounded by the friends he has made during his long and honorable participation in public affairs. It was a gratifying tribute to a strong and earnest character and career.

Unnecessary Harshness.

The New York Tribune is inclined to be very severe upon those Republicans who do not like Mr. Seth Low's nomination, and in referring to them seems to have adopted the Mugwump form of expression, the chief characteristic of which is a sneer. It is of course a matter of current information that Low bolted the nomination of Mr. Blaine in 1884 and refused to support Mr. Harrison in 1888 and 1892. It is not at all unnatural that this performance should be recalled at this time when a determined effort is being made to force the Republicans to endorse Low's candidacy, but the Tribune in referring to the charge says "it would be more important if it was so." In the Weekly Tribune of September 8 there appeared an article under the caption "The Career of Seth Low" in which the writer said:

In 1888 he was talked of as a possible Republican candidate for Governor, but in a speech before the Brooklyn Republican League he declared that he could not follow his party in National affairs unless it took a more moderate stand on the tariff. After the nomination of Harrison and Morton he resigned from the Republican organization forward."

Thus it appears from the columns of the Tribune that "it was so." In fact it is openly charged that Mr. Low might have assured the election of Mr. Blaine in 1884 had he given his support to the ticket as at that time he had a following strong enough to offset the 1,100 votes by which the State of New York was carried for Cleveland, or rather counted for him. Men may honestly differ as to the expediency of making Mr. Low the Republican candidate in view of all the existing conditions in New York; but certainly there is no reason why Republicans who do not believe in the candidacy of a man who has been opposed to the Republican ticket in three National campaigns and who is to-day opposed to the protection principles of the party, should be assailed in Republican newspapers. Such tactics are not conducive to harmony. Whatever decision may be reached as a result of the broad-vised action of the Citizens' Union, it cannot reasonably be expected that the name of Mr. Low is one to arouse any great degree of enthusiasm among Republicans.

Prosperity's Tide.

A gentleman just arrived in Washington from the Pacific coast, speaking of the improved business conditions, said: "You could not realize what a change has come over the people. I came through that great Northwestern country, where the free silver epidemic was raging at this time last year, and was absolutely astonished at the change. The demand for the free coinage of silver has disappeared, and thousands of men who advocated it a year ago now admit that that they were wrong. Tens of thousands are indicating their gratification that it failed, and I did not hear of any who regretted his vote for McKinley, sound money and protection."

"What has brought this change in so short a time?"

"Improved business conditions, improved confidence, improved wages and improved prices. They have all come steadily since the election of McKinley and especially since it became known that a protective tariff law would be promptly passed, and have come in the face of a steady fall in the value of silver. This fact shows to even the most unthinking that they were being imposed upon last year by the statement that prosperity could only come through the free and unlimited coinage of silver and has thoroughly disgusted them. I never saw so great a change in so short a time."

"But the silverites say that the high price of wheat is due to the shortage abroad and that the silver question has nothing to do with it."

"On the same theory it might be argued that the low price was due to the surplusage abroad, and that the silver question had nothing to do with that, and that is just about the truth of it, too. But it is not the advance of wheat alone that shows the people that the 'hand-in-hand-with-silver' theory was a humbug. They find undoubted proof of this in wool, which is a great staple with them as it is in Ohio. Wool has advanced 50 per cent. in the past year, and yet silver has fallen meantime. And there is no excuse for the statement that his advance is due to a big foreign demand. The wool of this country is consumed at home. This country has been within the past few months jammed full of wool, and yet the price of our product has advanced 50 per cent. in the face of this large supply and also in the face of the fall in silver. How do you account for this? Simply because silver has nothing to do with it, but protection, prosperity, and home manufacture have everything. And the people are seeing it, and are seeing how nearly they came to being made 'monkeys' of in last fall's election."

LYNCHED BY A MOB.

Would-be Assassin of President Diaz Taken from Jail.

About Twenty of the Mob Arrested—Cheers for Diaz.

New York, Sept. 17.—A special from Mexico City to the Evening Telegram says:

Arroyo, who yesterday assaulted President Diaz, was lynched last night by a mob of common people. About 20 of the lynchers were arrested. The mob had apparently no organization, but it was directed in some mysterious manner.

They broke into the jail by forcing the doors with huge timbers, handled by a hundred men.

They overpowered the guards and surrounded them, while a detail of men rundown the corridors and dragged out the trembling Arroyo.

Crowds thronged the streets cheering for Diaz and the republic.

SITUATION AT HAZELTON.

Day Opened with Commotion in the Military Camps.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 17.—Today opened with commotion at the headquarters of the third brigade in the various camps. At an early hour this morning a message reached Gen. Gobin that there was more trouble at Auldenried. The attack made by the women yesterday which resulted in driving the miners at those collieries out, was repeated when another attempt to start up the colliering was made today.

Over 100 men reported for work at the Monarch [illegible], which the band of Amazons, armed with sticks and stones, swooped down upon them. Some of their number again stationed themselves on top of a culm bank, ready to pelt the men with their weapons, but violence was avoided by the men promptly going out. At the Star colliery about 100 out of 135 men returned to work, but the women are determined to drive them out and they are not expected to be working for more than a few hours. No attempt was made to resume at the Carson washery.

As soon as the reports of this disturbance reached Gen. Gobin, he sent a squad of the governor's troops to the scene.

When the cavalry reached there, all attempts of violence had ceased, but the women followed the troops about the streets hooting and cursing them.

A store keeper at Auldenried declared this morning that his entire stock of revolvers had been sold during the past few days. Reports from Cranberry confirmed the news that the powder house of Edward Trenbeth had been broken into early this morning by strikers who had stolen a quantity of dynamite.

Details of the robbery were not obtainable. A squad of soldiers was also sent over there.

Portland, Sept. 17.—A special to the Evening Express from Bath says the following letter from Grand Chancellor Edward C. Reynolds of the Knights of Pythias of Maine, Knights of Pythias, was read at the meeting of the Roberts-Patten committee adopted by Patten lodge, K. of P., of Bath, to be read before that lodge which is to be read before that lodge tonight:

"Portland, Maine, Sept. 17, 1897.

To the Officers and Members of Patten Lodge, No. 56, K. of P., Bath.

"Dear Sirs and Brothers:

"Without regard to the merits of the case or the justice of the decision of the judge, I regret sincerely that such action should have been taken by a lodge of Knights of Pythias in our grand domain. Portland Stevedores Strike.

Portland, Sept. 17.—Stevedores and longshoremen employed by the Maine Steamship company struck on account of a reduction from 30 to 25 cents an hour. Orders were received from New York to this effect. Gangs went to work this morning, but when the longshoremen appeared they refused to work. Another gang was put on, and it looked as though there would be serious trouble tonight and the outcome will be watched with interest.

One Madman Kills Another.

Two deranged men, both victims of intemperance, were left together in a room at the Essex County Hospital for the insane in Newark, N. J., Sunday morning, while Keeper Beirne went out for a few minutes. They were two of the most troublesome and quarrelsome inmates of the asylum, and moreover, had nursed a grudge against each other for several months. They were Val Grebe, aged 48, who had been in the asylum for three years, and Joseph Horn, who was committed two years ago, suffering from [illegible] mania, from which he had not recovered. They were both [illegible] among the incurables, and were working side by side cleaning the room. Horn and Grebe had been quarreling for some days and were left together without suspicion that there would be trouble.

Beirne was alarmed by a [illegible] and found Grebe on the floor [illegible] kicking him. Beirne seized [illegible] and called to Keeper Boyd to [illegible] toward the struggling men. Before he arrived Horn broke away from Grebe and dealt Grebe a crushing blow on the head with his heel just as the men [illegible] doing. The heel of Horn's shoe [illegible] Grebe's skull fully half an inch, and he dropped to the floor unconscious [illegible] within twenty minutes. Horn [illegible] crazed yelling while fighting Grebe, and Keeper Beirne, and still [illegible] Boardman went to Beirne's assistance and hustled him into a cell.

Green was carried to a bed [illegible] Belton was summoned, but [illegible] nothing to save the life. There were four wounds on Grebe's [illegible] the right temple was evident, [illegible] with a broom handle, while [illegible] others were from kicks, one of [illegible] fractured the jaw bone. Another [illegible] back of the head, and the [illegible] back of the left ear and [illegible] pression of a shoe heel.

The hospital authorities [illegible] the quarrel was over a piece of [illegible] which Green refused to give [illegible] who invariably exceeded [illegible] portion.

A similar murder happened in the same ward eleven years ago, when a patient killed another with a heavy earthenware spittoon. Coroner Pierson Washington investigated the case and will make his report in the [illegible] as a formality. The murdered man, William Green, was an engineer [illegible] of the big department stores in New York and was discharged for [illegible] Sheriff afterward he was [illegible] textile mills. He was one [illegible]

Saw the Battle of Waterloo.

James R. Greene was buried [illegible] at Ellsworth, Ohio, with high Masonic honors, he being probably the oldest Mason in the State. He had lived for [illegible] years in Ellsworth and was [illegible] one hundred years old. Mr. Greene was born in 1798 at Bolton, England, and [illegible] seven years old he went to live with his uncle, James Sherman, who was related to the Sherman family of which General Sherman, Secretary of State, is a member.

He lived with his uncle until [illegible] sixteen years old, when he was pressed into the British service. He had the choice as to which service he preferred, military or naval, and he chose the latter. He was assigned as a [illegible] man on board the man-of-war [illegible] George, which in the year following was employed in transporting English soldiers for Wellington's army across the Channel from Southampton to Antwerp. He witnessed the battle of Waterloo. Through the influence of Sir William Summerfield, Governor of the British possessions in India, he obtained [illegible] charge from the English government [illegible] to work in a tannery in Southampton.

Mr. Greene came to America in 1831, and led a seafaring life for many years. In 1831 he married Ann Road, an English woman, then living in Louisville. One son was born to the couple and when the child was eighteen months old Mrs. Greene took him and went back to England. She never returned and Mr. Greene never saw them again, though he visited England several times in the hope of finding them.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and is made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

WISE MEN KNOW

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and so deaden symptoms, by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache. 25c.

Saving a Husband's Life.

Only the other day the newspapers told the story of a plucky woman who saved her husband from drowning by the rock bound Atlantic coast. There are other dangers beside that of drowning from which shrewd women may, by a little diplomacy, save her husband. Men are proverbially reckless about their health. They do not think it worth while to pay any heed to a slight indigestion, a trifling bilious attack, a little nervousness, a small loss of appetite, a first sign of kidney trouble, a headache, dizziness, first symptoms of dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism, nervous prostration or deadly consumption. Even then they are prone to neglect their trouble until it is too late. A wise wife will assume guardianship of her husband's health. She will always keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When her husband complains of so much as she will see that he takes a dose. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion perfect, the blood pure, the liver active, the kidneys healthy. It builds firm flesh, strong muscles and healthy nerve tissues. It cures dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism and nervous prostration. It cures ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption. An invalid's wife will always give it to her sick one.

"I was a sufferer from malaria," writes Mr. R. Hall of Zanesville, Co., Va. "Two doctors failed to cure me. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in connection with his 'Pellets' and was cured. I can now do a good day's work at any man."

Constipation often causes sickness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules. In little vials. Druggists sell them and have nothing else "just as good." They regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Bowdoin College.

Bowdoin College has opened the year with an entering class of 60. The fact that there were 144 applications for admittance speaks well for the rigid requirements of the examination. Never were so many candidates for admission cut out by the examinations. It is athletics that suffer most under this treatment. There were several men turned down this year who would surely have made the varsity football team had they been admitted. They have gone to Dartmouth and will help fight Bowdoin on the gridiron this fall.

The chief new feature that confronts the returning students is the splendid dormitory, Appleton, which has been almost entirely repaired and renovated during the summer months. It is now an ideal college home. The woodwork is mainly whitewood, trimmed with quartered oak. A fine system of steam heating and plumbing is just being completed in the building. The students residing in Appleton Hall have appointed a house committee to each and to see that the building is not damaged.

The south end of Appleton is occupied exclusively by the members of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, as usual. The Theta Delta Chi fraternity occupies the majority of the rooms in the north end.

Master Howard Weston, son of N. W. Weston, of Skowhegan, was hit in the eye by a flying stick on Saturday last, having a narrow escape from losing the sight. He is now doing nicely and will come about all right.

HANDSOMELY ENTERTAINED.

Members of The Melita Club the Guests of Mr. H. C. Chapman at Green Lake.

Mr. H. C. Chapman gave an invitation to the members of the Melita Club to dine with him at his cottage at Green Lake last evening. The majority went out on the 3.10 train and the others went at 4.45. The steamer met them at the wharf near the station and took them to the grove at Point Comfort, where his cottage is situated. All were delighted with the sail up the lake and with the spacious cottage, with its roaring fire of logs in the large fireplace, which gave out a glow of warmth and hospitality almost equal to that which beamed from the landlord's smiling face.

The following members of the club sat down to the banquet: A. B. Farnham, C. I. Collamore, C. E. Getchell, T. W. Burr, J. A. Robinson, J. M. Swett, W. P. Dickey, A. P. Baker, D. A. Robinson, J. F. Woodman, H. T. Sanborn, I. K. Stetson, C. W. Coffin, M. H. Andrews, F. D. Pullen, E. C. Ryder, J. A. Boardman, W. W. Deane, N. E. Bragg and J. M. Oak. The mere statement of the fact that it was given by Mr. Chapman is evidence enough that the dinner was both bountiful and delicious. While Mr. Chapman was temporarily out of the room one of the members suddenly produced an elegant punch bowl of the famous Doulton ware, beautifully decorated and placed it in the center of the table.

When mine host returned, Col. Farnham, the president of the club, arose and in a short speech, both witty and full of appropriate sentiment, presented the bowl as a gift from the club to the astonished landlord. Though thoroughly taken by surprise Mr. Chapman responded briefly and feelingly and thanked the members for the timely gift, it being as he said the one thing needed to make the furnishing of his cottage complete. After dinner the time was spent in a pleasant social manner winding up with several fine selections by the soloist of the club, accompanied by "Mel" Andrews on the cottage piano.

After a pleasant moonlight sail on the lake the party returned on the 11.15 train thoroughly pleased with their evening's outing.

THE VEAZIE CROSSING.

Railroad Commissioners' Hearing on Friday.

At 9 a. m. on Friday Railroad Commissioners Peaks, Chadbourne and Danforth met in the Common Council chamber at City Hall to give a hearing in the matter of the Veazie crossing of the Maine Central, the B. O. & O. trolley line and the highway.

This crossing last year was the occasion of an action at law. The report of the railway commissioners went to the court, which, on the motion of one of the attorneys sent the document back to the commission for a reference to damages.

The court also decided that the cost of the bridge to be built over the crossing should be borne by the corporations, three-fifths by the Maine Central and two-fifths by the B. O. & O. Company the abutments and approaches to the bridge to be built by the town.

The interested parties were allowed to go before the court on a new action, in the presence of a single justice of the court, in further settlement of the matter. The elevated crossing is to built by the roads.

In order to reach the bridge and erect abutments, the land of A. F. Averill and R. D. Hathorn, of Veazie, must be used.

The commissioners, after the hearing, went to Veazie and viewed the location. They returned at noon and at 2 o'clock began another hearing. The hearing in the afternoon was attended by P. H. Gillis, Esq., for the town, C. F. Woodard, Esq., for the Maine Central, and Mr. A. F. Gerald and Hon. E. C. Ryder, for the B. O. & O. company.

The commissioners will make their report later.

THE INSANE HOSPITAL

Ready for the Custodian Who Will Soon be Appointed.

Hon. Albion Little, of Portland, and Col. S. N. Campbell, of Cherryfield, Eastern Maine Insane Hospital commissioners, Architect John Calvin Stevens and Dr. B. T. Sanborn, of the State Insane Asylum, at Augusta, arrived in the city yesterday on business concerning the closing up of the affairs of the commission.

The commissioners are through with their work and the buildings are ready to be turned over to the custodian, who is yet to be appointed. The governor and council meet next Monday and it is probable that the appointment of a custodian will then be made.

There are a number after the appointment. A number of petitions have been signed here.

The custodian will receive a good salary for his services during the two years during which the buildings will be closed in. The state has appropriated $1,500 yearly for the care of the hospital.

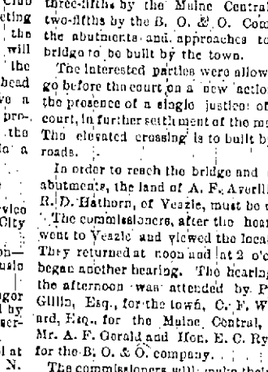
It was Mr. A. H. Drummond who was mustered into Hannibal Hamlin Post, No. 16, G. A. R., Thursday evening, instead of Mr. R. O. Pendey, as we were then informed.



Fifty Years Ago.

This is the stamp that the letter bore which carried the story far and wide, Of certain cure for the loathsome sore That bubbled up from the tainted tide Of the blood below. And 'twas Ayer's name And his sarsaparilla, that all now know, That was just beginning its fight of fame, With its cures of 50 years ago.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the original sarsaparilla. It has behind it a record for cures unequalled by any blood purifying compound. It is the only sarsaparilla honored by a medal at the World's Fair of 1893. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record.

AMUSEMENTS.

James O'Neill in "The Dead Heart."

James O'Neill, he of the resonant and musical voice, the classic features and the stalwart form, with the dramatic force and genius to match his physical qualifications, gave a large and representative Bangor audience at the Opera House last night another example of his great power in the field of romantic acting and a feast of intellectual pleasure.

The play was a revival of "The Dead Heart," which was made famous by Mr. O'Neill on this side and Sir Henry Irving on the other five years ago, and it was given a masterly production.

It is an illustration of life during the French revolution, a time fraught with blood and riot and incidents of the most thrilling description, from which numerous dramas have been drawn and which furnish the playwright with the most striking material.

The action of the play arouses the emotions very strongly as heroism, love, hate, revenge and craftiness with a high example of self-sacrifice as a closing imprint, follow one another in rapid succession.

"The Dead Heart" besides having an intensely interesting plot, gives plenteous opportunity for elaborate and realistic scenery and stage settings and beautiful costumes. For instance there is the storming of the Bastile with its howling mob of frenzied people enraged in battering down and burning the prison, which had excited their ungovernable rage. That was one of the several sets of fine scenery which materially aided in a complete production.

Mr. O'Neill was at his best last night and he impersonated the hero, "Robert Landry," with the fire, the pathos and the powerful sympathy which have for years charmed all who have had the privilege of seeing and hearing him. Particularly strong was his awakening from the mental vacuum of eighteen years of imprisonment, after his rescue from the Bastile and the cloak of the net was the signal for an enthusiastic curtain call.

There were also many other scenes in which his magnetic presence developed striking situations, and at the end of the third act another curtain call was given.

The support rounds out a smooth dramatic surface, each role being handled with skill.

Miss Dodd gave to the part of "Catherine Duval" a pleasing presence and histrionic art of a very praiseworthy order. Mr. Thompson's "Latour" was forceful and able and Mr. Comins and Mr. Bresse did very good work.

The comedy element had Mr. W. J. Dixon for its exponent and the humor of the role of "Toupet" was mirthfully brought out by him.

This evening the engagement will be closed with the production of "Virginius," with Mr. O'Neill in the title role, and there will undoubtedly be another large audience.

A somewhat amusing occurrence last night at the close of the play was the delay of the audience in leaving the theatre, there being some uncertainty shown as to the fact that the play was finished, possibly owing to the missing of the cue, which was given by the orchestra for the final music. At any rate the reluctance to leave was complimentary to the entertaining powers of Mr. O'Neill and his company.

"Puddinhead Wilson."

The coming engagement at the Opera House, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22 and 23, of Mark Twain's famous "Puddinhead Wilson" with its big company of high class players will no doubt bring out one of the most cultured audiences of the season. This will be the first production here of this beautiful play, which takes us back to the period of 1830 and brings to view two score or more of those lovable old-fashioned characters of whom but few of the present generation can remember. It recalls the days when the big steamers plowed the mighty Mississippi, when "St. Louy" was the Mecca of every Missourian, and the black mac, often as true as steel when his white playmate was a sneak and traitor, was an article of commerce.

The scene of the play is laid in southeastern Missouri and reminds us of the time which makes up the most interesting part of that State's history. It is a natural play with a beautiful love story and in which comedy and pathos go hand in hand, while its theme is founded upon a subject which of late has been furnishing food for the scientists—the theory of the thumb marks which is now being used as a means of personal identification in bringing criminals to justice.

WIFE OF SENATOR VEST

[illegible] Who Has Been Made Well by [illegible]'s Celery Compound.

So many testimonials are coming in from every part of the country to the proprietors of that greatest of all known remedies, which stands so pre-eminently above all others in its wonderful curative powers, that it generally has been thought best to select almost at random a small percentage of them for publication.

The accompanying letter from the wife of the great Missouri senator, however, is one of a great many that have come first and last from families of national reputation.

The health of the wealthiest and most highly cultivated is of course no more dear to them and their relatives than is that of the humbler persons who depend upon their daily toil for their week to-week living. But the first class of people can ably have at their command every facility that money and good judgment can secure to benefit them when their health is threatened.

For that reason the almost endless number of hearty testimonials that are received from those who have the best medical advice at their instant disposal is double assurance of the unequaled value of this Paine's celery compound, which has come to be known throughout the world as the remedy that makes people well.

Why should one waste the opportunity of gaining health and vigor by temporizing with any of the many worthless remedies that quacks offer, when this wonderful discovery of America's ablest physician, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, the very foremost medical authority of this generation, Paine's celery compound, is now within reach of everyone?

Long sufferers from nervousness, dyspepsia and neuralgia should not think their patience a virtue. It is simply a sad waste of the joy of healthy living.

Not only these disorders, but all other effects of low nervous vigor can be absolutely cured, and permanently cured, by building up that nervous strength and purifying the blood with Paine's celery compound!

An "ailing habit" is easy to fall into. Many persons with no serious organic trouble conclude that they are invalids, and make no determined effort to get well until they become a nuisance to their friends and a burden to themselves. What they need is to drive out the clogging, stupefying humors from their blood and nourish their irritated nerves by means of Paine's celery compound.

Paine's celery compound will absolutely cure rheumatism, neuralgia, those frequently recurring headaches and those alarming heart palpitations and sinking spells. It urges the body to take on flesh and to cushion the nerves with a proper accumulation of fat that will counteract all irritation. By means of this superb nutriment every part of the body is nourished and built up.

Vigorous health stands on a tripod, and may say, of pure, rich blood, a thoroughly nourished nervous system and—depending on these—a capable healthy digestion and assimilation. Poor health and disease mean that something is wrong with the blood or nerves. Paine's celery compound attends first to these two great essentials, and whatever else is wrong is soon corrected when the blood and nerves are right.

Using this great invigorator, the tired, thin, bloodless body begins to take on flesh; the pain in the back ceases, showing its health in the kidneys; the skin grows clear and clearness, and that unmistakable look of well-being gradually takes the place of the nervous, irritated, sickly, forbodding that always accompanies a poor, under-fed nervous condition.
